

The Word of God

... I need you son, because the Lord will no longer show Himself until the judgment. I need to send you to plant a flower in the garden, to make you a doctor, to make you a centurion to fight against the immoral, but you should know that you will become even richer, that you will sail on seas and will bring to the Lord, Jesus Christ, what He has destined for you.

Oh, world, world, bitter world, how everyone covets you, your table, your conduct! Sons, what do you see at the world? Son, what do you covet about it? Why, sons? Be assured that you will see with your own eyes the destruction of this world, the flight to the mountains and to the graves.

My children, make the holy cross not only when you pray. You will overcome with the cross. Make the cross where you go to sleep; make the cross on the walls, on the vessels, on the table, at the springs of water, on the paths, and call for the blessing, as where the cross is, the devils flees. Make the cross. Do not be people without the cross. The cross sanctifies the things; it sanctifies the bodies; it sanctifies your eyes. The cross is the staff, which destroys satan. The cross brings healing. You should make thousands and hundreds of holy crosses while praying, but not superficially. If you cannot do it with your hand on the way because you fear the people, I say that you should not be afraid of the people. Do not put the light under the bushel. Take care of your candles. Put the oil into the food. The oil brings health and many other good things.
