

The Word of God

... The holy cross has brought freedom to faith. Since the war of the holy kings Constantine and Helena, the Christians have no longer been persecuted and there has been peace. But when the cross has no longer been honored and since the cross has no longer been saved, behold that the war for faith has started again. Carry the holy cross. Many carry it, but they do not carry the holy cross. The cross has to be sanctified by the deeds.

When you make your prayers, make them within deep humility and within a profound holy life, so that God may turn His face towards His servant, for He is very upset with the world, for there was neither in Sodom nor in Gomorrah what it is today on this holy land. Witchcraft, fornication, thefts, swearing have spoiled the earth, sons, and who is able to remember so many sins, which have filled the earth? They rise to the holy heaven, they rise to the moon and they rise to the sun. Be prepared, not with expensive clothes, not with barns, but with good and holy works instead. Be prepared, for God has decided to destroy the world on the earth. I have always announced you and I see that you have not been getting ready. Who will go on to announce you these words? For behold, this body can no longer be kept within these sufferings, and one can no longer give health to its sufferance, because the people is not obedient.

... It means oppression what today is in the world. They measure to you; they measure to you until the measure and the one who measures will be broken down. It spoiled the church of God; it spoiled the church. You see it standing up, but it is useless. You see it standing up, but it has no more grace and gift, for there is no more holiness in the mouth that serves in it; and he serves in the church without God's Spirit, for the evil one has taken out God's Spirit. The evil spirit cast Him out. Take heed Christian, and seek the one who has not denied God's Spirit from his bosom. Seek him as Mary the Egyptian sought him; as Mary Magdalene sought, for not all of them are servants, and they remained as in the time of Elijah, the priests of Baal.

... Both the emperor and the servant have the evil in themselves. God is upset, and all Heaven is upset, and The Holy Mary is upset, too, because the entire Romanian country is dirty. There must be cry and sigh among the Christians.

... You peasant girl, where is your hemp and your brake? You used to make shirts and clothes snow white from hemp. Even our Lord wears linen clothes, a linen shirt. And the angels, too. I do not defy you. Be perfect, in order to be able to live in the cold weather.

There will be bloodshed. There will be paralysis. Many will die in accidents. Even the emperor himself will die in an accident, and many other emperors on the earth will die. And God will work to make emperors from the ones who swept the streets. There will be people without king for a long, long time, and the sheep will fight the sheep and the ram will fight the ram, and the hegoat will fight the hegoat until one in a thousand remains. For it is written in the book.

There will be an empty butcher's in the country. God shall clean up the Romanian country of all its litter and He shall make it a blessed garden.
