

The Word of God

... The time will come from God for all My people to be singled out of the world on earth, to be separated from the whole world on earth. You will stand face to face with the antichrist and by holy faith the antichrist will melt away like wax. Be perfect and keep the holy faith, for by holy faith there will all miracles be done which will have not been done until the end and you would say to the mountain: “Move!” and it will move. Each word you will repeat will be done so. This way the enemy of your faith will melt away.

... Here, today, man only when he sleeps does not eat. Otherwise, he eats and drinks all the time. Man’s gluttony of today took him in everything to judgment. Who will be the condemnatory of man? Sin and the father of sin. God measured with a good extent how to eat and how long to sleep, how long to work and how much to rejoice. Everything has its own measure, but you spoiled the right measure and turned it into a wrong one. Listen, for I speak truly; woe to the one who spoiled the right measure that God made for your future! If you had taken God’s measure, you would have not been sick, you would have not been the way you are today and you would have been in a great heaven. Make peace with God, you too sick man and healthy man as well. Make peace with God and fix your mistake. Wipe away your fault so that it might not be found out on the day of judgment, for if a group of Christians are found today living a good life on earth, all family will be repaired, the one that you have on earth and the one that you have damned.

What will you say, Christian, on the Judgment day, when you see the raised one from the grave, surrounded by the devils, and he/she would have been to you: a husband or brother, a grandfather or sister, a father or mother, or a child? What would you say? Would you not cry for them? Oh, Christian, for you have not prayed for them! Oh, sons, Christian, pray for them!

... If I were you, a boy or a virgin, I would not want marriage and I would better remain like this, so that one may not be born for Gog and to be counted into his number. (The order of Ceaușescu to increase the birth rate, r.n.) Do you know that this man is rising from your infants billions of lei? Do you know it? Do you not know that in the Holy Scripture it is written secretly?

... Yes, some are waiting to see the antichrist and the antichrist has been getting old into the world. He is old of days and walks with a staff and many follow him, for many Antichrists have been born of him. But when it is revealed, what a great mourning will be! As then his name will be discovered; he will be called the father of lies and the father of all things that are displayed into the show windows.
