

The Word of God over the unbelief of the bishops

Mark down this day, sons from the garden. Mark it with My word, as now it was the moment when you stayed at the gates of My word before the unbelievers, for all the bishops from the Synedrium of today became guilty on this day, even those who believe and love My word which comes in this time on the earth. Give My word everywhere, not only to the bishops. Spread it to all the margins, for I give you power and I help you to be able to do it.

The people say that you are rich, sons. The people say that you have money and that you have everything you need, but I taught you, since I chose you I have taught you not to lay hold of the richness on the earth, not to take anything for free from anyone, as worthy is the worker for his pay. I have taught you to work with your own hands to have clothes, food and shelter. I have taught you not to take anything that is not yours. I have taught you to take after Me in clothing, food and wealth, and not to love empty glory and the worldly and earthly richness. The people say that you are rich, but you are not so. You are poor, and everything you work, work to spread My word on the earth, for I help you to be distributors. Give My word everywhere, so that the people may know about My morning and yours, as I live with you the same way as I lived with My few disciples of that time.

Spread My word everywhere, sons. Send My word always, but not only to the people of the church. Send My word to those who rule the Romanian country. Send My word, sons, to those who slander Romania, so that the whole earth may know about My glory in it, about My richness of the glory of My word, and of its heavenly election. I will help you to have power to multiply My word, as I am the One Who goes on the earth. I am the Lord Word.

Behold, the unbelief leaves from the people of the church, who are called God's servants among the people. All the bishops became guilty before Me, not only three or four of them, who oppress My bishop, (Irineu of Bistrița, r.n.), to make him stand against the love of My word, for I am love, the word of love. Amen. My word of rebuke and scolding is love, as it is written: «The Lord rebukes those He loves, and the Father scolds His sons to get wisdom».

Not only some of the bishops are guilty of unbelief and of the act of unbelief, which came and was shown today at your gates, (To curse the work „of the evil spirit”, r.n.), little garden of My word. No one among the bishops helped the one oppressed among them. (The bishop Irineu took part at the service for the laying of the stone of foundation of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem, r.n.). No one got up to show that he is loving and faithful to the glory of My word, which comes from heaven for the glorified preparation of My second coming; no one, sons, as all sleep in their chairs, for what else is the sleep good for? I had no bed, nor table, not chair. I was walking bare footed and without any shelter, and I was the Son of the Father King. He, who does not believe in Me, sleeps, as the unbelief is night, and those who sleep, sleep at night, they sleep in the night of unbelief. What use is their standing before Me for? What fruit do they bring forth to Me? What do they do for Me? Behold, they dishonor My name before Me, and they turned the dwellings dedicated to Me into dens of robbers. The godless people come in under a garment of the servants of the church and make one another servants, and they sit with unbelief, and their lips preach God before the people, but they are nothing but some poor scribes and some hypocrite Pharisees, who do not even wash their body, or their mind, or their heart, and stay this way into My name over the people, and because of them My wrath comes over the sons of disobedience.

The people have no one to listen to. This pain of Mine is great in heaven and on earth. The people have no one to listen to, sons. Spread My word so that the people may know that I am their God and that I speak with them as a God, Who can speak to them, and so that the people may have someone to listen to. The people have no spiritual shepherds. The people have only fleshly shepherds, and they do not help them keep away from the sins, and they do not help them distinguish the good from the evil, and the evil from the good. I came on the earth as the word, to make the people faithful, good and clean by repentance and by holy love, and the people of the church have driven Me away by their unbelief, and their unbelief is coming from the people as the itch is taken from man to man.

Give My word everywhere, not only to the bishops. Give it to the people, sons, as I will help you to be able to do it. Give it to everybody, as the people of the church want to hide from My word; they want to tell that they do not know about it; they want to tell that I am not the word which calls out over the earth, and behold, because of them My wrath comes over the people.

Mark this day down, for it is a day of pain, sons. On this day the people of the church have subscribed to their opposition to drive Me away from the heart of those who believe in Me, and who eat from the everlasting life of My word. On this day the people of the church have given up the glory of My word which flows from heaven over My little garden on the earth. On this day of August 7, 1997, according to the earthly account, My bishop came to the gate of My word. He did not come alone. He was brought, as he did not want to come and do something unfaithful. He is like the soldier in the army and submits like an honorable soldier, as one who obeys. All the heaven cried with compassion for him. All the heaven was with you, sons from the garden. All the saints, all the prophets, all the angels, all the heavenly powers were with you and for you in the painful moment of the heaven, which is with you. He is the son of suffering and is dishonored and slandered by the bishops, for My name, which became word over this little garden.

Do not grieve, sons. Not so, for I am with you and My bishop is also with you. He did not say anything wrong over you, and he left blessing you and saying: „Be blessed!” Oh, he was about to hold you all in one embrace; he would have liked to take you all to his bosom and to leave with you, so that he might not be without you, as this is what he said sometime: „I can nothing without you”. And behold, he cannot because he is bound and he cannot do it. When he was with you, his faith, heart, love and his steps were free, but since he was caught into the snare of the unbelievers he could no longer do it. He came because he was brought; he came because he was forced by the flattering threatening of those who are afraid of you, as the bishops are afraid of you, sons, but not of you, rather they fear Me, and they do not know their fear and where it comes from. My bishop would have liked to take you all in his arms as I did with those that were loved by Me. His spirit is as sweet as Mine. His heart longs after those that are My clean ones, as he is good and clean, and he has the heavenly wisdom in him and works for the salvation of the people.

Here is what the bishop, which sits over the church of the city of Târgoviște, did! (The municipality, the residence of the district, which is found in the town of Glodeni – the place of the monastery The Holy Citadel New Jerusalem, r.n.). He brought about My wrath on the earth and the poor people suffered. I tell you, dear sons, so that all who will speak My word may hear; I tell you that everything, which comes over the people, comes through their interceders. That is why a said that My wrath comes over the sons of disobedience because of them; it sets over the people by those who are great, not by those that are small; by those who watch over the small ones; My wrath or My blessing comes through their rulers, as I said so, and My word is the truth.

Sons, sons, whenever those who are unfaithful wake up to slander My work to cause pains to the little garden of My word, so many times they bring about wrath on the earth, as I love this little garden so much as it cannot come to the mind of the man.

My bishop would fly like a bird of the heaven to you, but he has his legs bound, sons. His heart and your heart beat a moment with joy and pain, as you met each other face to face after such a long time. There are four years and more since his little wings were tied. The heaven cried under the pressure of this moment; the heaven cried with compassion for him and for you, but his sorrow and yours will turn into joy and glory, sons. When the woman is about to give birth she travails, but after she gives birth she forgets about her pain, because of the joy of the born child.

I thank you sons, that you listened to Me and that you had the spirit of patience and that you did not speak a word of pain, as I also did not say anything within My passions of the cross. I will write down all the bishops who urged him to come and strike you, and I will not forget their deed, if they will not come to repentance.

There was one bishop at the gate of My little garden who told you that My bishop would come and take My name away from My little garden, and he spread his evil thought among the bishops. And there is another one among them, who speaks bad words over My bishop, not seasoned words, but rather words of soul torment, and others of them speak cunningly, for many of them are afraid of the light which discovers their bad deeds. I will write each one of them into My book, as My book from this time is being written down. Write, sons, write these for a memorial, as this is what I told Moses when he was making out the book of Israel to be a memorial of their acts.

Do not grieve for My bishop. He will be lifted by Me into glory and he will forget the pain and you will receive him with bunches of flowers as you have received him now, as it has been fulfilled the word by which I told you about his coming. I made heavenly signs to prevent his coming to you, (Ongoing rains accompanied by floods and storm for a couple of days, r.n.), as it hurt and it hurts Me the task he was obliged to do. I told you that he would be brought to you and I told you that I will work to prevent them, and My prophet Elijah worked wrath on the earth and I afflicted people, (By great damages that they suffered, r.n.), but the unfaithful bishops did not repent from their unbelief, so that they might no longer force My bishop to strike in the place of the glory of My word. But he did not strike, for this little garden is sanctified by My word, not by him. He was My witness and that is all. He confessed the place of the glory of My word, as I made him My anointed and confessor, and no one can spoil what I did through him. It was not him but I Who worked through him, and he listened to Me with faith and love.

Do not grieve, sons. Do not grieve, My people. Sons, no one can take from you what you have from Me. Do not suffer for the one that is anointed by Me; do not grieve for My bishop. He will come to you and will be with you again, and he will love and comfort you. Amen, amen, amen.

I will raise a righteous and faithful people with a clean heart out of the Romanian people, and I will inspire it with the Holy Spirit to know the glory of My word and his accomplishments. And a new heaven and a new earth will come out of the middle of Romania, and the righteousness and peace will dwell in it, and this wonder will comprise in it all those with a clean heart, and then the one, who is bishop from Me, will rise and will forget the pain and will testify to the truth of My word. And many of those that condemned him for the deed of his faith will beat their chest and will run to him and ask him to intercede for them, for I ordained only My good things over the people, but the people did not know the face of the good, and they said that it is the evil and fled from My good.

Behold, sons, Elijah, the prophet sighs with his eyes and spirit, for he is body in those from heaven, as he did not die in his body, but he remained with his body, so that he might work for the preparation of the glory of My day, on which I will come visibly from heaven on the earth. Elijah, My prophet, was filled with pain for those that came over My little garden, and he prays to Me to touch the Romanian land with scolding because of the unbelievers, who fight with My little garden and with its sons and with My Christian people from Romania, for the unbelievers and the act of their unbelief bring about My wrath over the Romanian people.

I went with you, sons of My little garden, and I took the tangled knot from over Romania and I blessed the Romanian people to be a chosen people among other nations, and the rulers of the church stand with unbelief against My heavenly deeds. The people do not fulfill the words of the prophets, but I fulfill them, as I also fulfill the prayer of the prophet Elijah, who prepares My way and makes the people believe into the wonder of My word in this time. Amen.

Sons, sons, it is written into the Scriptures that My word comes over the earth in the time you live in. Let those great on the earth ask themselves, as those in the time of My birth were asking saying: «Where would the Christ be born? What is written in the Scriptures and in the prophets?» And the bishops and the scribes answered that he was to come in the Bethlehem of Judea, for out of it would come forth the Governor of Israel; however, no sooner that they found out than they already rose against God's plan, as they do today, sons; however, the country of brightness, which the prophet Daniel wrote about, is the Romanian country, and in its midst the spring of My word, which is written about in the prophets, flows from heaven, and behold, I, Myself, am shepherd and the shepherds from the earth do not know the mysteries of the Scriptures.

I am the holiness of the little garden of My word, and no one can abolish it, and no one can raise it from it. My bishop sanctified it with his word for this is what I asked him. It was not him, who sanctified it, but I sanctified it through him, and what I did he cannot break down, but he is under authority and he does not do his will but rather he is pushed, and his patience will win over many souls, clean and without blemish, for My kingdom.

The prophets and the saints cry and ask Me to touch those that are not believers. I let Myself be put to shame because of My love for the people. I love the people, but the prophets and the saints love Me and they want Me to do them justice for their faith and for those of today who believe waiting for the kingdom of heavens.

Sons, sons, the prophet Elijah does not stop praying and working and he says to Me:

– Lord, You are the One Who said that You will send Me to prepare the way of Your second coming, and I have to fulfill Your word. The people did not want to believe in the prophets, but I hurry up, Lord, as Your day has come. Do not cry, Lord! Let those that are not believers cry, for they do not cry. The weak and little ones cry, but You also cry. Let me heal the people of unbelief, as You said that I would prepare Your way. Amen.

– Oh, My people, all the prophets cry with Elijah, the prophet of My coming, as he goes ahead of Me. Oh, My people, do not cry! Rejoice, son! I protect you, as My angels marked you down with My sign. Do not cry My people! I protect My bishop until the day of the great joy.

Sons from the garden, mark down this day into My book as a testimony, as your sorrow and Mine will bring you joy, and no one will take the joy from you. Amen, amen, amen.
