

The Word of God at The feast of the saint martyr, Demetrius, the myrrh-streamer

At the turn of two days of feasting I come down upon you with My word, for it is a feasting of saints, children, watching for My coming. I strengthen My power in you to be able to write down My word into his book. Amen. My love for you brings Me always above the little garden that I have you in, and I come to feed you as a bird feeds its chickens.

Grow, sons, and give power to My coming and ask it to come from Father, for those in the graves have been waiting for Me to come and to call them out, for their waiting is long but nevertheless it is not as long as their waiting on earth. Oh, be great in your mind and give power to My coming, for those in heaven come together at My word with you, and those in hell rejoice of My light from you and which reaches to them. I always make My path to you to get My coming near and to prepare the day of the resurrection of the creature, and then the age of the heaven to be on earth with its everlastingness, for the saints wait for every creature, which does no longer know to wait. I also wait, sons, and I wait to come and blessed are those who believe that I come, for they become the day of My coming and give light My way to come, for it is only night in the way of My coming. Everything is in the dark on earth, everything is in pitch dark and no one sees My coming any longer, and the man walks in the darkness day and night; he walks and sees nothing for he walks without seeing and without waiting.

Take care saving sons to remember always all those who were born and are no more and of whom there is no one to remember on earth, for the morning of their soul is great and it is a great mercy to be remembered and to be brought to light and to rise to life, to know that they have a Savior, Who will call them out of Hades. Seek to be always up to date with all the Christian order for all human kind, which is no more and which still is, and does not take care of the life of the soul, for woe to the souls without any help, without Savior! Behold, the man on the earth does no longer takes care of the life of his soul, and in the invisible world of the souls, which are no more, the waiting is long; the fear and morning is also great and it is burning to look at it! I showed you what is there so that the mercy for those who are no longer in the body¹⁴⁵ may seize you. I have not wanted to make you sad but rather I have wanted to speak to your heart and to give power to My coming so that I may make My coming near, sons, and to be able to prepare the day for the resurrection of the creature. Remember all those without escape from the dwelling of the dead, and I go to give them hope for My coming, which is coming soon, soon. Their waiting is long and it is not as on earth. There no one can help another. There is only endless fear for every soul, and behold, there is no longer a living man on the earth to want to know how to make the Christian order for those who are no longer on the earth.

Oh, the man does not want to prepare on earth his place in heaven for the life of his soul. If the man born on the earth does not live for the soul that short life of the body, his body is of no use to him, but only to his pain after this body of the soul. Many a soul, who said on earth that there is nothing after this body, is staying now with endless fear, waiting for a helping hand. It is only waiting there, merciful sons, and there is no man on the earth to want to know from Me how those who wait desperately in place of the dead may be helped out. However, I have always taught you, because you receive Me with My teaching. I have mercy of every creature and that is why I have lifted you from among the people and I have prepared you for Me, and then I have put you to help Me with My work for My coming, to come and to save this human people. First, to come and to call out to him to hear Me and to wake up at My calling, and if he does not get up, to wake him up with My power, to wake him up with the rod, for the man does not care of the life of his soul. Nevertheless, make a memorial before Me, for all human kind, which is no more on earth, for every creature that waits for the man's redemption, for all and for everybody, sons, for the whole creature sighs waiting for its redemption. Make prosphora of memorial for My supper with you, for My sacrifice for the man. Make kollyva of wheat so that all those that are remembered through it may come together into its body. Make small and twist bundles so that the angels, the archangels and the saints, who help those mentioned, may go and give the joyful news to those who have been waiting aggrieved in the place of the dead, for they look for their salvation to come from somewhere. It is written in the Scriptures: «The bodies of the dead will rise and exult with joy, for the earth will give birth again to those who are asleep and they will stand up». Amen.

When I was on earth and taught the disciples, the Jews were looking for Me to find fault with Me, for they did not believe into My words. However, I was telling them this: «The hour will come and it has already come when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God; and those who will hear it will be alive, and you should not wonder about this for I tell you again: the hour is coming when those in the graves will hear His voice and will come out». Amen. And I will give them a body, the house of their soul in heaven, a body made out at My word, out of dust and word, made out of the Spirit of God. And then it will be the great meeting of those who are and of those who were and they will be again, so that the day of resurrection may be made out, of which I preached through the Scriptures the day of My coming with the saints, who received the heaven even from the beginning, even from the time of their bodies.

I come, sons, to you with the feast of the angels, with the feasting of the saint archangels, Michael and Gabriel. Then I will take from your little hands the sacrifice for those in the place of the dead and I will go with it to them and preach them that I come soon to take them and to give them the day of their resurrection. I will comfort and unburden them; I will give them of their resurrection and I will give them speech to speak to each other about My coming and about you, those who work with Me for the day of My coming. Be always up to date with their memorial, as I taught you when I hired you to work for the resurrection of the creature. My word in My garden with you will comfort those that are called out for their memorial and it will give them of My peace.

Be faithful, builder children and be fully built, for we what we have to do is only building. We have to build the new age and those that are resurrected for it. You are My builders and the balance is in My hand. And we work out the building with our body and spirit, for I made you to be Mine and to work with you everything is to be worked for My coming. Amen.

Now, I look again into My hand, where you and the house of the meeting are, near the small house in the hill. You have been working for five days at it and reached with its building to the ceiling. Now I strengthen you with heavenly powers and with My little angel before, and the little angels, with various graces for you, encircle you and help you from all sides, for you are with your body, and We are with our Spirit, and We will give light to the world with My light from you. Be fully built into My word on you and teach yourselves more perfectly how to receive him and how to stay before him. Behold, I speak again and renew My blessing for this building, and I say: In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, the house of meeting, which has been taking shape among you during these days, is blessed in all the time of its building, and as for you, be one single word, builder sons. You, sons in front, be all the more one word, so that those who build together with you may also be like you. Let My people be like you, sons in front. Be My Spirit to build with Him, for you are small but I can, only if you would put My word that can in the book and then to take it and to put it over you, to be the sons of My powers on earth. Amen. I work from everywhere for you, so that everything what is needed may be here for the building of the house of meeting, and then I will help you with much power afterwards, and we will write helpers down on earth in the book of the building of this house. Amen. I strengthen your hope into My word, for I am the One Who turn it into deed in your way, to work further according to the balance that I hold in My hand, for this house is in My hand, and

I leave it little by little down on earth through your little hands on which I rely in My work during these days.

Oh, My peace among those who work it out is beautiful! I give you My peace among you, and you should work it out as I do. I give you My wisdom and you should work it out as I do. I give My word among you and you should work it out among you and upon you as I do and be faultless in word. Amen, amen, I say to you: be faultless in word! The one who is faultless in word keeps a tight hold of My measure, the measure that I measure the spoken word with, and the one who does this has Me as his power in everything and for everything he has, and he is a great help to Me and gives way to no tension, or pain, for My word has to mean comfort and power and fulfillment. That is why I say: be faultless in the word that you speak to the world, on each other and to each other, for behold, the word is the one that builds the same way as I work, for I speak and fulfill it. Amen.

My angel sounds from time to time for any work that has to be done and placed on the earth with you for the visible making of the house of the meeting with God, and in front of this house, the well of the meeting with God is situated, the well of Israel, which carries in itself the mystery of My meeting with the man. And behold the house of the meeting and behold what an unsealed mystery, sons who work out the fulfillment of My word full of mystery. When I worked out the Samaritan woman's well through you, the well of the meeting with God, I did not tell you about the house of meeting, and now I have told you, and made it when I have told you, and now I have settled it though you in My gardens given to you for My service and for My coming in them on the earth, to meet the man that is able to believe into My coming to you.

Now I am embracing you with the graces of the My saints mentioned within the celebration of saints: the saint martyr, Dimitrie, (Demetrius of Thessaloniki) of whose body it flows a heavenly chrism for the comfort of those who are believers, and the devout Dimitrie from Bucharest, who protects Romania. My saints have prepared their place with My even since the time of their body, and then I have made them My workers near Me over those who do My will on their way to heaven. I spend with you a feast with saints, and My work written in the book crowns the spirit of the feasts and the spirit of My saints.

Give Me power to come, sons, for the heaven is full of waiting and those in the dwelling of the dead sigh in themselves for their resurrection, after My coming, to bring them up and to give them their house in heaven, their new body, built at My word for the resurrection from the dust of the bodies of those who are asleep. First I raise them and then I establish on the earth the eternity for them and for the living ones who will be within their bodies on earth at My coming, as it is written into the Scriptures.

May the memorial table in the day of the synod of the saint archangels Michael and Gabriel for those who wait in the dwelling place be blessed! Amen. I turned you into Samaritans. The entire human kind, all creature, which has a body on earth, has room in My house with you, merciful sons, who have received Me in your houses when I have knocked at you, as the Samaritans received Me and believed in My coming from the Father as Messiah, the Savior coming from heaven.

Be blessed at the work of the house of meeting and be My Spirit and be all one word under the love of My word, which leads you to the day of My coming on the entire earth.

Take care of My coming to you, as it hurts Me deeply when I cannot come. I have always received you and I have you every moment. Receive Me as well and open to Me ahead of time to be able to come. Make way for Me when I come and help to My coming, as I come for your food and I come for your life and for My life in you, sons, to fill you with it and to give from it. And I replace whatever you give but keep on giving, so that I may have where to deposit and to have a way to come, children of My coming. Take care of My coming to you, sons, for all and everything have been waiting for My coming to you. Open to My coming before My coming to you, for all and everything have been waiting for My coming to you, My word of resurrection.

Amen, amen, amen.
