

The Word of God

I was sent to those of Mine, and I was crucified by them. I was sold for a small price. Did you hear, son? May the thrill from Me enter you; may the Spirit from Me enter you! Did you hear? I have not forsaken you, but you have forsaken Me. I did not deny and I received all for you. No one loves you as I loved you. I carried a heavy cross, but your cross is not as heavy as Mine, as your wrongdoing was on Mine, and My wrongdoing was not on yours. Yours is not heavy, but you are ashamed with it.

... Let all people be faithful for they will see the death of the antichrist, for every Christian eye, which is with Me, will see the destruction of the antichrist and of his people.
